Metal Construction News Recognitions

Metal Construction News has opened entries for the Readers' Choice Product Awards.

Here's how it works. You enter a product. In December and January, their readers vote on it alongside everything else entered in its category. Winners are announced in the March issue.

The votes come from the contractors, erectors, and engineers who specify, install, and fabricate metal products every day. When one of them picks your product, it means something to the next buyer who sees it.

Entries close December 6. The details and the entry form are here.

Nominations for the 2027 Metal Construction Hall of Fame are now open.

Now in its 15th year, MCN's Metal Construction Hall of Fame recognizes individuals whose achievements have made a significant and demonstrable contribution to the industry and its people.

Our Hall of Fame honors individuals who have helped advance the industry through innovation, leadership, mentorship, technical or business achievement, industry service, or other exceptional contributions.

NOTE: Induction recognizes the significance of an individual's accomplishments and impact, which can be active and ongoing.

Metal Construction News proudly works with the Metal Building Contractors and Erectors Association (MBCEA), Metal Building Manufacturers Association (MBMA), and Metal Construction Association (MCA) in recognizing individuals who have helped shape and strengthen the metal construction industry.

Categories, Eligibility and Nomination Form can be found here.
Nominations CLOSE January 8, 2027.
