Housing Resources

- Section 4023: Forbearance
  Section 4023 requires a servicer to provide forbearance (up to 90 days) for multifamily borrowers with federally backed multifamily mortgage loans who have experienced financial hardship caused by the COVID-19 emergency, so long as:
  - The borrower has submitted an oral or written request for forbearance affirming that the borrower is experiencing financial hardship.
  - The borrower was current on its payments as of February 1, 2020.

  During the period of forbearance, the borrower may not:
  - Evict or initiate the eviction of a tenant solely for nonpayment of rent or other fees or charges; or
  - Charge any late fees, penalties or other charges to a tenant for late payment of rent; or
  - Issue a notice to vacate.

- Section 4024: Temporary Moratorium on Eviction Filings
  Under Section 4024, regardless of whether a borrower has requested a forbearance under Section 4023 as described above, housing providers are restricted from eviction filings as follows:
  - During the 120-day period beginning on the date of the enactment of the CARES Act, housing providers are prohibited from:
    - Initiating legal action to recover possession of a tenant’s unit for the nonpayment of rent,
    - Charging fees, penalties or other charges to the tenant related to such nonpayment of rent or
    - Issuing a notice to vacate.
  - The foregoing restriction applies to any property where the housing provider’s mortgage on that property is insured, guaranteed, supplemented, protected or assisted in any way by Fannie Mae, Freddie Mac, HUD, the rural housing voucher program or the Violence Against Women Act of 1994.

  Similar to Section 4023, following expiration of the 120-day moratorium period, Section 4024 also prohibits housing providers from requiring a tenant to vacate the tenant’s unit before the date that is 30 days after the date on which the housing provider provides the tenant with a notice to vacate.
Financial Assistance Resources

- Delay Payroll Taxes
  The Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act, allows employers (and self-employed individuals) to delay paying their portion of that social security payroll tax. Payments may be made in two installments to the Treasury Department:
  - 50% until December 31, 2021
  - Remainder until December 31, 2022

  This legislation also applies to the corresponding portion of self-employment taxes. The delay of payments is optional. The deferral is also not available to employers who receive forgiveness of a Small Business Act loan under any other CARES Act provision.

- Paycheck Protection Program (PPP Loans)
  An SBA loan that helps businesses keep their workforce employed during the Coronavirus (COVID-19) crisis. Under this program:
  - Eligible recipients may qualify for a loan up to $10 million determined by 8 weeks of prior average payroll plus an additional 25% of that amount.
  - Loan payments will be deferred for six months.
  - If you maintain your workforce, SBA will forgive the portion of the loan proceeds that are used to cover the first 8 weeks of payroll and certain other expenses following loan origination.

Who Can Apply? This program is for any small business with less than 500 employees (including sole proprietorships, independent contractors and self-employed persons), private non-profit organization or 501(c)(19) veterans organizations affected by coronavirus/COVID-19. Businesses in certain industries may have more than 500 employees if they meet the SBA’s size standards for those industries.

How to Apply: You can apply through any existing SBA 7(a) lender or through any federally insured depository institution, federally insured credit union, and Farm Credit System institution that is participating. Other regulated lenders will be available to make these loans once they are approved and enrolled in the program. You should consult with your local lender as to whether it is participating in the program. Lenders began processing loan applications on April 3, 2020.

Loans Details and Forgiveness: The loan will be fully forgiven if the funds are used for payroll costs, interest on mortgages, rent, and utilities (due to likely high subscription, at least 75% of the forgiven amount must have been used for payroll). Loan payments will also be deferred for six months. No collateral or personal guarantees are required. Neither the government nor lenders will charge small businesses any fees.

Forgiveness is based on the employer maintaining or quickly rehiring employees and maintaining salary levels. Forgiveness will be reduced if full-time headcount declines, or if salaries and wages decrease. This loan has a maturity of two years and an interest rate of .5%.
