Get Your Shift Together!

Angel Rogers, ARM, CCRM, National CORE/Star Training

Dealing with rapid change in a work environment can be challenging. In today's multifamily environment there can be numerous platforms that associates have to become familiar with starting on their first day. Adding to that, there are several generations working together with different skill levels, mindsets, and values. This could be a recipe for disaster if you are not equipped to navigate both the technology and the people. Sometimes we just need to get our SHIFT together! This fun and informative session is a combination of Who Moved My Cheese and Generations in the Workplace. You will leave with strategies to improve your flexibility, resilience, and a proactive approach for optimum performance.
