Hotel Cut-Off Deadline Is Approaching

Don't forget to book your room using the link provided to you in your conference registration confirmation email! Email us at info@aaoe.net if you cannot locate that email and we'll send another. You will only receive the email if you are registered as Booth Staff. The deadline is April 6 to book your room at the Hyatt Regency Atlanta.

There are NO authorized room block vendors, so any communication you receive from someone other than AAOE is a scam.

Deadline to notify AAOE of giveaways and activities

Let us drive more traffic to your booth by notifying attendees in our daily newsletter about your booth activities and/or giveaways!

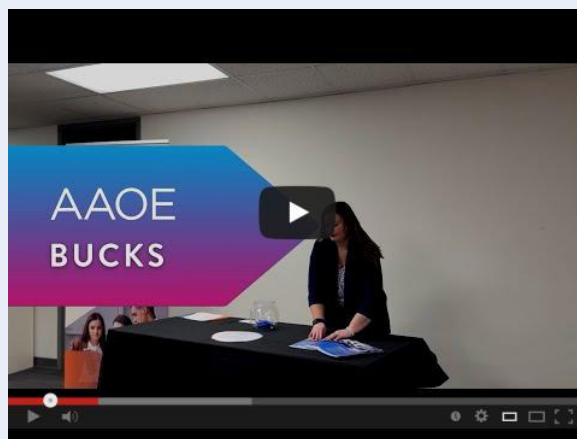

If you'd like AAOE to promote your giveaways or activities, please fill out this form by April 4: Vendor/Exhibitor Booth Giveaways and Activities

Handing Out AAOE Bucks

You'll be given a stack of AAOE Bucks to give out to attendees who visit you at your booth. The quantity you choose to give out per interaction is up to you! A brief visit might only generate $10 in AAOE Bucks, whereas if they sign up for a demo, that might rate $25-50. And, you don't have to give out AAOE Bucks if there wasn't a quality interaction with the attendee at the booth.

Attendees will use their AAOE Bucks to bid on large silent auction prizes, such as a cooler full of Yeti products, a technology package, an adventure package, and a fat tire bike.

Donating booth materials after the conference

Most years we get requests from our vendors for the ability to donate technology, furniture, and giveaways that they do not want to ship back to offices so this year we're making it easy for you to do so! Please add the requested information if you'd like to donate anything to the Agape...post conference and we'll work with you on-site to make sure it gets to them.

Please let us know if you have any questions or require a receipt of some kind for your donation.

Thank you for sharing these items with our conference charity. They, and we, appreciate you! If you want to donate anything post-event, please fill out this form: Vendor Booth Donations. This will help avoid confusion and last-minute arrangements on-site.
