FOREWORD

The Operational Handbook for AASPA is designed to assist members of the Executive Board and committee chairpersons in conducting the business of the American Association of School Personnel Administrators. The Operational Handbook contains general Executive Board and committee procedures, statements of specific committee purposes and procedures, timelines for the preparation and submission of committee reports, position descriptions and codes of ethics for members of the Executive Board.

Special attention should be drawn to timelines set forth in the Operational Handbook for reporting the activities of the various committees and the channels through which reports are submitted to the Executive Board. Generally, written committee progress reports are provided to the Board through the Liaison at the summer meeting. Tentative final reports are submitted in June, and final reports are prepared for appropriate action in October at the annual conference. It is the responsibility of each Executive Board Liaison to communicate with his/her committee chairperson concerning specific reporting dates and to communicate the Board's charge to each committee and its reactions to recommendations of the committees.

The Operational Handbook should serve also as a basis for coordination by the Executive Board of all committee activity and, more specifically, by the President, Executive Director and Liaison.

As present and future members of the Executive Board and committee chairpersons use this Operational Handbook, it is certain that each will have suggestions for its improvement. Suggestions are most sincerely welcomed and encouraged. Such suggestions should be sent to the President, Executive Director or Committee's Liaison.

The contents of AASPA's Operational Handbook have been reviewed and adopted by the Executive Board. All additions, deletions and revisions must be approved by a majority vote of the Executive Board.

3.60 – PROCEDURES FOR HANDLING CASH AT EVENTS

FINANCIALS

At Registration, all cash, checks, and credit card transactions are handled by an AASPA staff member or staff member designated volunteer. The on-site volunteers are verbally instructed to send any on-site registrants or unpaid registrants to the AASPA staff member or staff member designated volunteer at the Registration desk to handle any transactions. This includes registration payments, ticket sales, and any other necessary charges in the form of cash, check, or charge. Written receipts are created for all transactions.

Most transactions are handled by an AASPA staff member present at the Book Store. However, in the absence of an AASPA staff member, a designated volunteer is permitted to handle transactions to keep the Book Store running. Volunteers are instructed upon the beginning of their shift as to the procedures for handling cash, checks, and credit card transactions, as well as keeping track of inventory. Written receipts are created for all transactions.

Prior to the national conference, cash is withdrawn to use for change and miscellaneous expenses. Written receipts are created for all transactions. Upon return to the home office, the remaining cash is deposited back into the AASPA account from which it was taken.

Also upon return, an AASPA staff member compares the beginning inventory of items for the Book Store to the remaining inventory and cash receipts for reconciliation.

CASH BOX HANDLING

The AASPA cash box is under the supervision of an AASPA staff member at all times. At the close of registration each day, an AASPA staff member takes the cash box, all cash, checks, and credit card receipts, and places it into a hotel safe box for keeping overnight. At the end of the conference, the AASPA staff member carries all cash, checks, and credit card receipts home in a carry-on item.

3.70 – ANTIFRAUD AND WHISTLEBLOWER POLICY

INTRODUCTION

This fraud policy is established to facilitate the development of controls that will aid in the detection and prevention of fraud against the American Association of School Personnel Administrators (AASPA). It is the intent of AASPA to promote consistent organizational behavior by providing guidelines and assigning responsibility for the development of controls and the conducting of investigations.

AASPA and its Executive Board, management, and employees are committed to maintaining an honest, open, and well-intentioned atmosphere. It is, also, committed to the elimination of any fraud and to the rigorous investigation of such cases.

ANTIFRAUD DEFINITIONS (as defined by the Audit Commission)

- Corruption – i.e. “the offering, giving, soliciting or acceptance of an inducement or reward which may influence the action of any person.”

The policy, also, covers

- Misappropriation or petty theft without the distortion of financial records or statements.
- Intentional distortion of financial statements or records to mislead or represent.

IMPLEMENTING INSTRUCTIONS

- AASPA expects anyone having reasonable suspicions of fraud to report them. It recognizes that while cases of theft are usually obvious, there may only be a suspicion of fraud and thus staff must report any concerns to management (or to the finance committee if management is involved) who can then ensure that AASPA's procedures are followed.
- Management must establish an anti-fraud culture within their team and ensure that information on procedures is available to staff.
- Audits and/or Reviews must be conducted at least annually with the results being communicated to the Board and other authorized parties.

INVESTIGATION RESPONSIBILITIES

The Executive Board has the primary responsibility for the investigation of all suspected fraudulent acts as defined in the policy. If the investigation substantiates that fraudulent activities have occurred, the Board will issue reports to appropriate designated personnel. Decisions to prosecute or refer the examination results to the appropriate law enforcements and/or regulatory agencies for independent investigation will be made in conjunction with legal counsel and the Executive Board and/or Director as will final decisions on the disposition of the case which could include suspension and dismissal.

WHISTLEBLOWER POLICY

AASPA's Whistleblower Policy provides a secure and confidential framework in accordance with the Public Interest Disclosure Act 1998, within which members and employees are encouraged to raise concerns if they believe any irregularities have occurred, are in the process of occurring, or are likely to occur.

AASPA will ensure that any allegations received will be taken seriously and investigated within thirty (30) days of receiving a written notice after the occurrence of the alleged retaliatory action, subject to the requirements of the Human Rights Act of 1998. It is prohibited for any employee to take retaliatory action against another employee because of the employee's information given in good faith, in accordance with the procedures, that an improper action occurred. The Executive Board will deal firmly with those who act dishonestly by instigating appropriate disciplinary action and/or criminal proceedings including suspension and dismissal. No employee or Board member will retaliate against an employee protected by this policy.

A summary of this policy and its implementing procedure shall be permanently posted where all employees will have reasonable access to it. It shall, also, be made available to any employee or member upon request.

SUMMARY

The Nominating Committee chairperson should be available ~~at the annual conference~~ to meet with the newly appointed chairperson and provide appropriate guidance and materials for the following year.
