

Gina Burritt Bio

Gina Burritt is the Director of the Delaware County Planning Department. Gina joined the Planning Department in November 2022 after over two decades in the private sector, where she worked on numerous environmental and transportation planning projects. Since joining the County, Gina led the adoption of Vision Zero Delco, making Delaware County the first County in Pennsylvania to adopt a Vision Zero Plan. She has overseen the expansion of the Delaware County trail network, advancing the update to the County Comprehensive Plan and Act 167 Stormwater Management Plan. Her favorite part of the job is working with residents, municipalities, partner agencies, non-profits, business leaders, elected officials, and a host of other partners to advance the goals of the Planning Department and the County.

Gina received her undergraduate degree from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Environmental Policy and Economics and her Masters in Community and Regional Planning from Temple University. She is a member of the Transportation Steering Committee of the National Association of Counties (NACo). Along with her husband and two boys, she is a resident of Havertown, PA where sports and spending time outdoors keeps them busy.
