

Space Discussion

Charlie Hedden, Panelist

Charlie is the Senior Agency Council for the United States Air Force in Colorado Springs, Colorado, with nearly a decade of service. He provides legal and policy advice on environmental and land-use issues as the Senior Environmental Liaison Officer. His portfolio is heavily focused on space launch, where he collaborates with military leaders, DoD agencies, and commercial space providers. Charlie's expertise lies in devising solutions to national and international problems, ensuring requirements are met and capabilities are delivered efficiently to the warfighter. He holds degrees from Mississippi College School of Law and the George Washington University of Law.