ARLIS/NA Announces Recipients of the Worldwide Books Awards for Publication and Electronic Resources

WESTFORD, Massachusetts – The Art Libraries Society of North America is pleased to announce this year’s recipients of the ARLIS/NA Worldwide Books Awards, which recognize outstanding work produced by ARLIS/NA members. The 2023 award recipients are Dana Statton Thompson, for her e-resource Visual Literacy Today, and Courtney Stine, for her article “‘Don’t Use It’ to ‘Let’s Edit!’: Using Wikipedia to Teach the ARLIS/NA Art, Architecture, and Design Information Competencies” in Art Documentation: Journal of the Art Libraries Society of North America, volume 39, issue 2 (Fall 2020).

The members of the ARLIS/NA Research Awards Subcommittee are Jade Finlinson, Heather Gendron, Anna Helgeson, Alison L. Huftalen, and Jennifer Friedman.

About the Art Libraries Society of North America

Founded in 1972, the Art Libraries Society of North America (ARLIS/NA) is a dynamic, international organization of close to 1,000 individuals devoted to fostering excellence in art and design librarianship and image management in the United States, Canada and Mexico. The membership includes architecture and art librarians, visual resources professionals, artists, curators, educators, publishers, students, and others interested in visual arts information. To serve this diverse constituency, the Society provides a wide range of programs and services within an organizational structure that encourages participation at every level.
