Amendments to the ASHE Bylaws Proposed by the Review of Higher Education Editors and the Publications Committee

Reason: To clarify terms of the RHE Editorial Board members.

Amendment to Article IV, Section 8 of the ASHE By-Laws:

Each editor shall recommend to the publications committee members to be appointed as associate editors and to the advisory or editorial board of their publication for approval by the publications committee. Such appointments do not require the approval of the ASHE board, but must follow the ASHE statement on diversity. Associate editors serve for a term(s) set by the editor, with approval of the pPublications cCommittee, and at the pleasure of the editor. Advisory or editorial board members serve a three-year ~~non-renewable~~ term at the pleasure of the editor. An editor may appoint an advisory or editorial board member for a second, consecutive three-year term, subject to approval of the publications committee. After a hiatus of at least three years and in rare cases, an editorial or advisory board member may be appointed for one additional three-year term on a given board, subject to approval of the publications committee. After completing service on a given editorial board, that editorial board member can be appointed immediately to ~~another the~~ board of another ASHE publication, subject to the approval of the publications committee. A member may not serve on multiple advisory or editorial boards of ASHE publications concurrently.
