Purdue University Celebrates BMES Member, David Umulis, as a Multidimensional Mentor

Once the beneficiary of a mentor's support, Weldon School head David Umulis now embraces opportunities to encourage his students and faculty in biomedical engineering. "The best thing about the job that I have right now is that I get to be that person every day for students who are going through similar types of experiences and similar challenges. That's why I love my job." said David.

BMES Fellow, Kaiming Ye, Leads COVID-19 Research

Research led by BME Chair and Distinguished Professor Kaiming Ye and Associate Professor Guy German proves what dosages of ultraviolet radiation kill the SARS-CoV-19 virus that causes COVID-19. The study, published in Scientific Reports, lays the foundation for health standards about what offers true disinfection.
