

Attention Commercial Customers with Separate Irrigation Meters

New conservation rates may impact your budget

New conservation irrigation rates are scheduled to take effect in 2011. Modify your landscape and irrigation practices now to maintain a healthy landscape and minimize the impact on your budget.

Orange County Utilities has free programs to help.

Attend a workshop to review the new pricing structure for commercial irrigation water and learn about the latest in water-efficient irrigation practices and best management practices for landscape maintenance that help to reduce water use. Utilities customer service staff will be available to review your current irrigation water use and show how the rate changes will impact your specific property.

Who should attend?

- Property managers
- Grounds supervisors
- Landscape and irrigation contractors

Attend one of the following workshops:
