

Ruthann DiLauri

For over 35 years, Ruthann has helped companies innovate and differentiate themselves in the marketplace as a Sales and Marketing Executive. Ruthann's career began in the consumer products industry where she progressed from Sales Representative to Vice President managing amazing brands like Crayola.

In 2000, after 15 years of corporate experience, Ruthann decided to use what she learned in business and start her own company. She transformed into an entrepreneur. Ruthann and her husband opened a Minuteman Press franchise and chose Orlando as the location. Minuteman Press Printing and Signs of Orlando is in the top 4% of all Minuteman Press Franchises worldwide.

Ruthann received a BS in Math from Boston University and a MBA from Fairleigh Dickinson University. She has been a BOMA member since 2018 and serves on the Governmental Affairs Committee. Ruthann is very active in the community serving on the boards of the Dr. Phillips YMCA, The Rotary Club of Dr. Phillips and the CFHLA Foundation.
