

BRIAN CAMPA COOPER CARRY ARCHITECTS

Brian is a Principal and Design Director with Cooper Carry in Atlanta, specializing in the design of higher education and science + technology facilities. In addition, his design leadership extends to mixed-use, adaptive reuse, residential, entrepreneurship centers, culinary centers, food halls, master planning, and hospitality projects. Brian's passion for design excellence is realized in high performance buildings, mass timber structures, contextual innovation, and immersive collaboration through construction.

Brian holds a Bachelor of Architecture from the University of Florida and a Master of Architecture from Yale University.
