

Established in 2001 by the Florida Municipal Electric Association (FMEA), in partnership with Florida public power utilities, the Florida Lineman Competition is where public power lineworkers come together from all over the region to demonstrate their skill and knowledge in the craft of line work.

At the Competition, journeyman and apprentices can compete for professional recognition, attend training courses and practice essential skills in a safe environment.

The first Florida Lineman Competition was held in Lakeland, Florida, with just over 50 competitors participating. There was no Apprentice class at that competition and the Awards Banquet was simply a tailgate barbecue at the local park. In the two decades since, the competitors consistently number over 150, coming from across the region, and the awards banquet seats over 500!

Without the support of our utility partners, the competition we've come to enjoy just would not be possible. We aim to keep our registration costs as low as possible while offering a world-class event, and the support of the Florida Public Power Community, in particular the Florida public power utilities, makes that possible!
