

Hurricane preparation is a year-round effort for FMEA member utilities and their communities across the state. FMEA's annual Hurricane & Storm Preparedness Forum is yet another way Florida's public power utilities collaborate on critical hurricane preparedness and response topics, mutual aid, FEMA, and other disaster and emergency response issues, as well as share best practices and lessons learned from each other.

Exhibiting sponsors are the only non-municipal members that are able to attend the forum. A welcome reception with exhibiting sponsor tables is included the night before the forum, and exhibiting sponsor tables will remain set up all day the following day throughout the forum. Sponsors will have networking opportunities during session breaks and lunch.

Included in the $4,500 sponsorship (limit to 12 exhibiting sponsors who must be current FMEA Associate Members, with no more than two attendees per sponsor):

Pre-conference

- ✓ Branded social media graphic with sponsor logo
- ✓ FMEA social media post announcing sponsorship
- ✓ Sponsor logo on registration website
- ✓ Company logo on home page of flpublicpower.com

Onsite

- ✓ Sponsor logo in program, banners and signs at forum
- ✓ Forum sponsor tag on name badge
- ✓ Exhibitor table during the welcome reception the night before the forum and the following day throughout the forum
- ✓ Recognition by conference moderators
- ✓ Company logo displayed throughout the conference

Includes

- ✓ Two complimentary conference registrations

Who attends this FMEA event?

- Utility Directors
- T&D Managers & Supervisors
- Lineworkers & Lineworker Foremen
- Customer Service Managers & Representatives
- Communication Managers & Specialists
- Mutual Aid Coordinators
- Engineers
- Safety Managers & Officers
- Key Account Managers & Representatives
- Community Outreach Coordinators