10 ANNIVERSARY
YEARS

2022

ANNUAL REPORT

A NOTE FROM LEADERSHIP

2022 was a year of knowledge sharing. FNA's stature as the advocate of our sector was put into action time and time again. We released an informative research report on giving in our state and shared it far and wide from Pensacola to Miami. We spoke on behalf of the sector at the Florida Council of 100 member meeting and Florida Chamber Foundation's Future of Florida Forum to share current trends and challenges within the sector. We reacted quickly to setup a sector call with FEMA for nonprofits in the wake of Hurricane Ian. We leveraged the trust in us to share feedback on HB1079 (Fiscal Accountability for Nongovernmental Entities) and were able to get our suggestions implemented. We setup timely webinars to address the new rules around workplace trainings, student loans and ARPA funds.

Most importantly, we reached a new record number of members and we are delighted that so many of you see value in our collective voice as a sector. We are proud to have partnerships not just in Florida but across the country and across industries, to get Florida's nonprofits the information they need.

Thank you for trusting us to be the voice of the sector. Thank you for all you do for Florida's nonprofits.

Sincerely,
Sabeen Perwaiz & Tony Carvajal

Nonprofits in Fla. on rebound as pandemic in decline
Beth Reese Cravey
Jacksonville Florida Times-Union
USA TODAY NETWORK

Almost 60% of Florida nonprofits served as many or more people in 2022 as they did in 2019, before the COVID-19 pandemic began to cause financial, operational and staffing challenges across the sector.

Almost half have fully returned to in-person work and about 33% are confident they will still be in existence in two years, compared to only 18% with such optimism during the height of the pandemic in 2020, according to a survey conducted by the Jacksonville-based Florida Nonprofit Alliance.

But one-third of the ones still around in two years will need to find new leadership, as that many CEOs and
