

FNA Member Update

June 2, 2023

FNA RESEARCH RELEASE

2023 Nonprofit Economic Impact Release: Strength in Numbers June 7, 10-11AM ET

Don't miss the release of the 2023 update to our Nonprofit Economic Impact research! This information is vital for nonprofits to use in making the case for the economic power of the sector. Join us to see what the Florida nonprofit sector currently looks like, how to use the data for your organization's benefit, and how to use the interactive dashboard to segment the data into regions or county. And for the first time, it also includes a step-by-step guide on how to use the data for maximum impact. at your organization level, the regional level, and the sector level.

Click here to register.

Thank you to the Jessie Ball duPont Fund for sponsoring this research

FNA 2022 ANNUAL REPORT

FNA's latest annual report is here! Click here to read the highlights of our work last year. Our work would not be possible without you, our members, and we thank you for your support!

HURRICANE SEASON

The 2023 Hurricane Season officially began yesterday. Here are some things to keep in mind for your nonprofit organization:

- A business continuity plan – the Nonprofit Risk Management Center has a number of resources on creating a business continuity plan (if you are not accessing your free membership to the Nonprofit Risk Management Center, now is the perfect time to do so!)
- A communications plan for employees and volunteers – according to our 2022 Nonprofits Survey, 30% of the nonprofits affected by Hurricanes Ian and Nicole had reduced ability to provide services because of staff unavailability. Make a plan now for how you will communicate with each other.
- Know your local resources – get to know the Emergency Management Division of your local government and find out if you have a VOAD or COAD in your region.

- Know who the most vulnerable are in your communities – nonprofits often know the community members and clients and what their needs are. How can you appropriately use that information to protect them in the case of a major storm?

FEDERAL UPDATE

Debt and Spending Deal Update

President Biden and House Speaker McCarthy reached an agreement last weekend to avert a default on federal debt obligations by lifting the borrowing limit while making some of the spending and other policy adjustments demanded by Republicans. The deal, outlined in the Fiscal Responsibility Act, calls for suspending the debt limit until early 2025 (thus avoiding a similar crisis until after the next general election), capping spending for both defense and non-defense spending at levels below the rate of inflation, and rescinding (or clawing back) $30 billion in unspent Covid-related relief. The parties agreed to reduce IRS funding by $1.4 billion this year and shift an additional $20 billion (from the $80 billion authorized last year) to backfill other nondefense spending over the next two years. It passed in the House on Wednesday and is expected to be voted on in the Senate today.

GRANT OPPORTUNITIES

Eyes on Your Mission Free Video Grant

DEADLINE: July 18, 2023

#EyesOnYourMission helps nonprofits tell their story, illustrate their successes and articulate their impact in vivid detail for potential funders, partners, sponsors, volunteers, and board members. One to two nonprofits will receive video production services valued between approximately $15,000.00 and $30,000.00 each (depending on the locations). Click here to apply: EyesOnYourMission.org/grants

This email is a benefit of your FNA membership.

Have a question about your membership? Not sure how to access your benefits?

Schedule a time to virtually meet with Veronica Inberg, FNA's Membership and Programs Coordinator!

Click here to unsubscribe