

SASP-SPSSI Meeting

Peacebuilding through Conflict Transformation: Intraindividual, Interpersonal, Intergroup, and Global Processes

Dates: Friday June 20 through Sunday June 22, 2025

Location: International Institute of Peace and Development Studies, Nong Chok, Thailand

This small group meeting will convene academic and practicing psychologists who seek to investigate peacebuilding across multiple levels of analysis. Conference attendees will share professional knowledge regarding how intraindividual, interpersonal, intergroup, and global processes may be integrated in peacebuilding efforts and processes of conflict transformation, toward a deeper understanding and more effective policy and intervention.

Local Co-organisers: International Institute of Peace and Development Studies (IIPDS)
Muhammad Sabur (Secretary General of Asian Resource Foundation)
Sumit Dutta (Counseling psychologist)

Academic Co-organisers: Stefania Paolini (Durham University, UK; Western Sydney University, AUS)
David Livert (Pennsylvania State University, USA)
Alex O'Donnell (University of Queensland, AUS)
Linda R. Tropp (University of Massachusetts Amherst, USA)

Questions: peacebuilding2025@gmail.com

To Submit Expression of Interest: Small Group Meeting