Dissertation Research Study

Patrick Baker, Fine and Performing Arts Coordinator at Elmhurst District 205 and student at the University of Illinois, is seeking school HR professionals to assist with his dissertation research. The focus is on examining ways in which information-rich exchanges and structured interviews (such as HumanEx Ventures for Excellence) influence decision-making and mitigate bias. If you are interested in assisting, please access the survey HERE. From the pool of respondents, Patrick will then select individuals for a follow-up interview.
