WHY WE SERVE

We strive to generate job growth and stronger economic development strategies through entrepreneur support organizations in rural and urban regions of the world. We believe that uncommon ideas can transform into innovative businesses that make global prosperity a reality.

HOW WE SERVE

InBIA serves entrepreneur support and ecosystem building leaders through global conferences, summits, research, training and education opportunities, industry best practices, and soft landings designations. Most importantly, InBIA facilitates authentic connections and peer-to-peer collaboration to enable our network members to sustainably serve entrepreneurs within their communities and around the world.
