

Baltimore
MAGAZINE

Presented by Baltimore
FOR GREAT PLACES TO WORK

BEST PLACES TO WORK 2019

MOVEABLE FEAST

901 N. Milton Avenue, Baltimore. Number of employees: 36 What they do: Nonprofit providing essential daily services to individuals with life-threatening illnesses. Why we like them: A nonprofit dedicated to caring for individuals and families living with HIV/AIDS, cancer, and other life-threatening illnesses by providing meals, medical nutrition therapy, and other services. Moveable Feast recently completed a $1.2-million renovation of its production kitchen, volunteer space, and offices. In addition to its headquarters in East Baltimore, a Federalsburg-based distribution site allows the nonprofit to serve Eastern Shore communities. Leadership has committed to providing a $15 minimum wage to hourly employees by 2020. Best benefits: The organization pays three-quarters of health insurance premiums and contributes $2,000 toward the deductible. There's also a 3 percent match on 402b retirement account contributions, reimbursements for professional licenses and certifications, free freshly laundered uniforms each week for transportation staff, volunteer time off each year, and financial services through MECU. Dating to 1914, the office building combines industrial charm with modern amenities, with the addition of a new break room, lobby, and secure entrance for employees. In addition to knowing they are making a real difference in the quality of life of in need Marylanders, employees say the trust leadership puts in them is the biggest benefit of working at Moveable Feast. "Empowering me means way more than free coffee," said one team member.

She's Still Here

Now 71, long-term
survivor Sherril Lewis
reflects on the gift of staying alive.

Sherril Lewis

The Harry & Jeanette
Weinberg Kitchen

