

Dr. Nathan Poteet is the Co-Founder and Executive Director of Programs and AI at The Freedom Institute, where he leverages 15 years of K-12 experience to pioneer innovative, career-focused learning models. A proven leader in school transformation, Dr. Poteet successfully elevated two schools from "C" to "A" grades before serving as the inaugural principal of The Freedom Institute. He currently spearheads the organization's expansion across two brick-and-mortar campuses and a digital platform, focusing on the strategic integration of artificial intelligence and credentialing initiatives. His work is dedicated to preparing students and the broader community for future success by merging personalized education with cutting-edge technological readiness, with the ultimate goal of ensuring every student achieves financial independence by transitioning seamlessly into college or a career immediately following high school graduation.
