

Ways to get involved with..

Professional Learning Community (PLC) <ul style="list-style-type: none">● Educators learn about and explore modules with colleagues from around the state● Collaborative sessions are intentionally designed to share instructional insights and strategies● Commitment: 6 online sessions, once monthly Oct - April	Learning Lab <ul style="list-style-type: none">● PLC learners strengthen their leadership, presentation and facilitation skills● Deepen their understanding of module use and how best to support and lead teachers/students● Commitment: 6 online and/or in person sessions, once monthly Oct - April
Beta Testing <ul style="list-style-type: none">● Teachers and students in secondary transition programs explore the Beta Version of modules to identify “bugs” and issues to be fixed● Provide feedback on modules through a survey● Commitment: Kick-off meeting for set-up and instructions; classroom usage for 2-4 weeks	Focus Groups <ul style="list-style-type: none">● Educators provide feedback via a structured protocol combined with freeform discussion● Focus is on identifying commonalities and themes regarding overall practice and lesson design rather than the technical aspects of the modules● Commitment: A one-time commitment of 1-2 hours
MSU Research <ul style="list-style-type: none">● Dr. Emily Bouck examines the online modules and work with students with disabilities.● Commitment: 3-5 baseline sessions, intervention session and 2 maintenance sessions per student.

To get involved contact: waltona.mcec@gmail.com

For more information visit: mittin.org