Kim Pfeffer Recognized with NACCU 2020 Outstanding Volunteer Award

Phoenix, AZ – May 7, 2020 – NACCU is honored to recognize Kim Pfeffer from Emory University as the recipient of the NACCU 2020 Outstanding Volunteer Award.

The NACCU Outstanding Volunteer Award is presented annually to recognize an individual who has demonstrated exemplary volunteer service to the mission, goals, and work of NACCU during the current or previous calendar year and encompasses the ideals of vision, diligence and commitment to service to the NACCU community.

Kim Pfeffer truly embodies the spirit of this award. She is a consistent presenter and participant at both live and virtual NACCU events, has helped to launch new projects for the association including a live exhibit hall podcast and the NACCU Primer Guide, has been instrumental in planning and facilitating the New Professionals Institute, and she currently chairs the Professional Development Committee. She is respectful and inclusive; active and supportive.

“I am honored and humbled to be named this year’s outstanding volunteer,” said Kim. “I remember reading somewhere that the best way to network as a newbie at a conference is to volunteer, and that is just what I did. I started small by greeting folks and directing them to sessions, and I have enjoyed every moment of my NACCU volunteer journey from that point on. It has all been a fantastic experience.”

It is with great pleasure we honor Kim Pfeffer as the recipient of the NACCU 2020 Outstanding Volunteer Award.
