

A modern bathroom featuring white shaker-style cabinetry, a large mirror, and a glass shower enclosure. The vanity has two sinks with gold faucets and a central wooden shelf with folded white towels. The shower has a glass door with gold hardware and a rainfall showerhead. The mirror reflects the room, showing a chandelier and a window.

Excelsior Bathroom Remodel

Residential Bath | Over $150K

Client Needs | Before

The homeowners came to us wanting to completely reimagine their primary bathroom. The existing layout felt compact and disjointed, and they deeply missed having a bathtub—a feature they'd always wanted to incorporate. Their vision was to create a modern, elegant retreat that felt both luxurious and functional.

Client Needs:

- Desired a serene, spa-like retreat with both luxury and daily functionality.
- Wanted to add a soaking tub and expand the shower experience with digital controls.
- Sought a cohesive layout with symmetry, balance, and architectural detail.
- Needed a bathroom that felt larger, brighter, and more open without structural expansion.

Before & After

---

BEFORE

AFTER

Before & After

BEFORE

AFTER

Challenges & Solutions

Ceiling Height Limits

Added a tray ceiling at the center, raising height 12” for a more spacious feel.

Symmetry in Remodel

Achieved through precise planning: double-door entry, balanced vanities, and aligned fixtures.

Digital Shower Integration

Designed hidden access points for serviceability and educated clients/team on system use and upkeep.

Craftsmanship & Innovative Methods

- We designed the custom millwork and vanities for both symmetry and function
- We precisely aligned architectural and plumbing elements to create perfect balance
- The access solutions for advanced technology were concealed without compromising aesthetics

Functionality | Floor Plans

By reworking the layout, we were able to maximize the usability of the space and create clear “zones” for bathing, showering, and storage.

BEFORE

AFTER

Functionality

- The Kohler digital shower system enhances daily routines with customizable features
- By creating maintenance access to the technology for the shower ensures the ability to service it as needed.
- Implementing a double vanity provides ample storage for two users while also achieving the goal of symmetry

Aesthetics

---

We designed this space to feel bright, modern, and timeless, using soft finishes and natural light to bring warmth and comfort. Clean lines and balanced symmetry create a harmonious, spa-like atmosphere, while thoughtful detailing adds interest and refinement without taking away from the overall elegance.

