

Bubbalou's BBQ Celebrates National BBQ Month

Celebrate National Barbecue Month and visit a Bubbalou's restaurant, cater an event or order a party pack. Whatever your barbecue craving is, Bubbalou's can quench it. Recognized as one of America's Favorite BBQ Restaurants by USA Today and Sunday, New York Times, Bubbalou's is always a hit wherever they serve the tasty 'cue they're known for.

"Bubbalou's supports National Barbecue Month by delivering the best quality bbq our customers have come to expect from us," said Bucky Weston, owner of Bubbalou's Bodacious Bar-b-que in Altamonte Springs, Florida.

Nothing says flavor, fun and good times like BBQ. Just thinking of barbecuing can immediately bring to mind special memories with family and friends. Picking up party packs to go or hiring Bubbalou's to cater your event is a way to bring that famous barbecue taste directly to you.

"Bubbalou's caters to various crowds of people. We have done everything from charity events to employee appreciation," said Weston. "But for a smaller crowd that you can handle on your own, party packs are the perfect choice."

If you are not planning a special event and want to treat yourself to the mouth-watering taste of Bubbalou's, you can grab a bite any time of the year. That's because Bubbalou's serves up heaping helpings of moist meats, savory sides, delectable desserts and much more at their restaurant locations in Altamonte Springs, Winter Park, and South Orlando Florida.

And remember - although May is a special month for BBQ, any time is a good time to eat at Bubbalou's. So beat the summer party rush and plan your barbecue bash early because everyone will want a piece of Bubbalou's barbecue this season.

About Bubbalou's Bar-b-que:
