

Connecting Hydro. Advancing Clean Energy.

Our Story

Founded in 1981, the Northwest Hydroelectric Association (NWAHA) represents the hydropower industry across six states and Western Canada. Our 130 member organizations include public utilities, developers, consultants, and manufacturers—collectively representing over 4,000 hydropower professionals. Being a member of NWAHA provides every person in your organization with industry representation and advocacy to collaborate and learn with peers.

Membership =
Access + Representation + Impact

A Regional Focus that Sets Us Apart

The Northwest generates 48% of the nation's hydroelectric power. NWAHA is the only industry organization solely focused on the unique regulatory, technical, and community issues facing this region. Our model is lean, our content is member-driven, and our dues are purposefully affordable. Current annual membership dues range from $1,400 per year for the largest organizations down to $250 for sole proprietors.

Why Join?

- Monthly Regional Newsletter
- Member Discounts on Conferences & Workshops
- Peer Learning via Lunch & Learns & Webinars
- Free Hydro Industry Job Board
- Committees: Technical, Legal & Regulatory, Small Hydro, Natural Resources, & Communications
- Communities: Women in Hydro, New Professionals
- Request or contribute content for events and publications
- Influence the direction of NWAHA events and programming

We unite passionate hydropower leaders through knowledge sharing and collaborative networking, so that together we are the recognized authority on hydropower for our Northwest communities.

Ready to Join?
www.nwhydro.org