2024 Summer Management & Operations Internship Program

The Oklahoma Agricultural Cooperative Council (OACC) is a trade organization offering legislative representation, educational advancement and service to local and regional cooperatives. The cooperative system allows local producers access to fair markets for supplies and the marketing of their produced goods.

OACC, along with local and regional agricultural cooperatives, facilitates an internship program aimed at recruiting young professionals into the agricultural cooperative system. The program provides students an opportunity to experience all aspects of the cooperative system, from agronomy and sales to grain marketing, business management and much more.

Multiple interns will be hired for the 2024 summer. OACC will then place you at a cooperative based on your interests and location. You will complete a two-day orientation in Oklahoma City before beginning your internship with your cooperative.

After nine weeks with your local cooperative, you will return to Oklahoma City for the OACC Regional Tour where OACC staff will travel with you around the state meeting with other companies in the industry such as CoBank, CoMark Equity Alliance, Land O' Lakes, Winfield, CHS and numerous others.

You will be given a special project assignment at the beginning of your internship to be completed during your nine weeks at your cooperative with the help of your manager. You will present your findings during the regional tour where OACC staff and participating managers will choose the top four projects and those interns will be given a $500 scholarship and the opportunity to attend OACC's CEO & Board Retreat. This is an incredible networking opportunity to meet with hundreds of potential employers.
