I think that by personalizing the situation and showing that you care about the PATIENT instead of the guns, you will minimize the chance of a negative reaction.

Proud of Pink Pistols Atlanta

Over the past six months, the Atlanta Chapter of the Pink Pistols has been doing amazing things for its members.

While everyone was still reeling from the Club Q shooting in November of 22, Pink Pistols Atlanta held a Stop The Bleed class in early December, which was taught by local firefighters and paramedics from the organization Frontline Medical Defense.

Thanks for dropping by the home of The Liberal Gun Club

The mission of The Liberal Gun Club is to provide a pro-Second Amendment voice for left-of-center gun owners in the national conversations on firearms.

In order to achieve our mission, we encourage new participants in the shooting sports and provide firearms safety and shooting instruction programs; as well as providing a forum for civil discourse on these issues.

Make it SAFE!

This series of videos is intended for educators, parents, the press, or anyone who is not comfortable with firearms, but may encounter one and has to take action immediately to make it safe.

NOTE: If you have any suspicion that the gun you come across was used in a crime, don't touch it and call the police if possible.

As always, if you do not feel comfortable handling a firearm, we do not encourage you to do so. However, these videos will give you a basic understanding of how make a firearm "safe," or unable to fire, if you are in a situation where you

Cultural Competence Classes

In 2019, Walk the Talk America formally partnered with Zephyr Wellness to provide cultural competence classes for mental health clinicians who wish to improve their understanding of firearms culture.

Have you had a mental health screening?

Taking a mental health screening is one of the quickest and easiest ways to determine whether you are experiencing symptoms of a mental health condition. Mental health conditions, such as depression or anxiety, are real, common and treatable. And recovery is possible.

In partnership with Mental Health America, we offer free, anonymous mental health screenings below. Use these to get a quick snapshot of your mental health. These screenings are not a diagnosis, but a starting point of helpful information you can choose to share with your health care provider for a full assessment.

An introduction to firearms and suicide prevention

There is promising evidence that providing suicide prevention training for those who influence a specific community can reduce the suicide risk for that community.

Understanding firearms and suicide prevention

No one takes their life for a single reason. We all have mental health, just as we all have physical health, and conditions such as depression, anxiety and substance use problems – especially when unaddressed – increase the risk of suicide. That risk is greater when a firearm is present and accessible in the home.

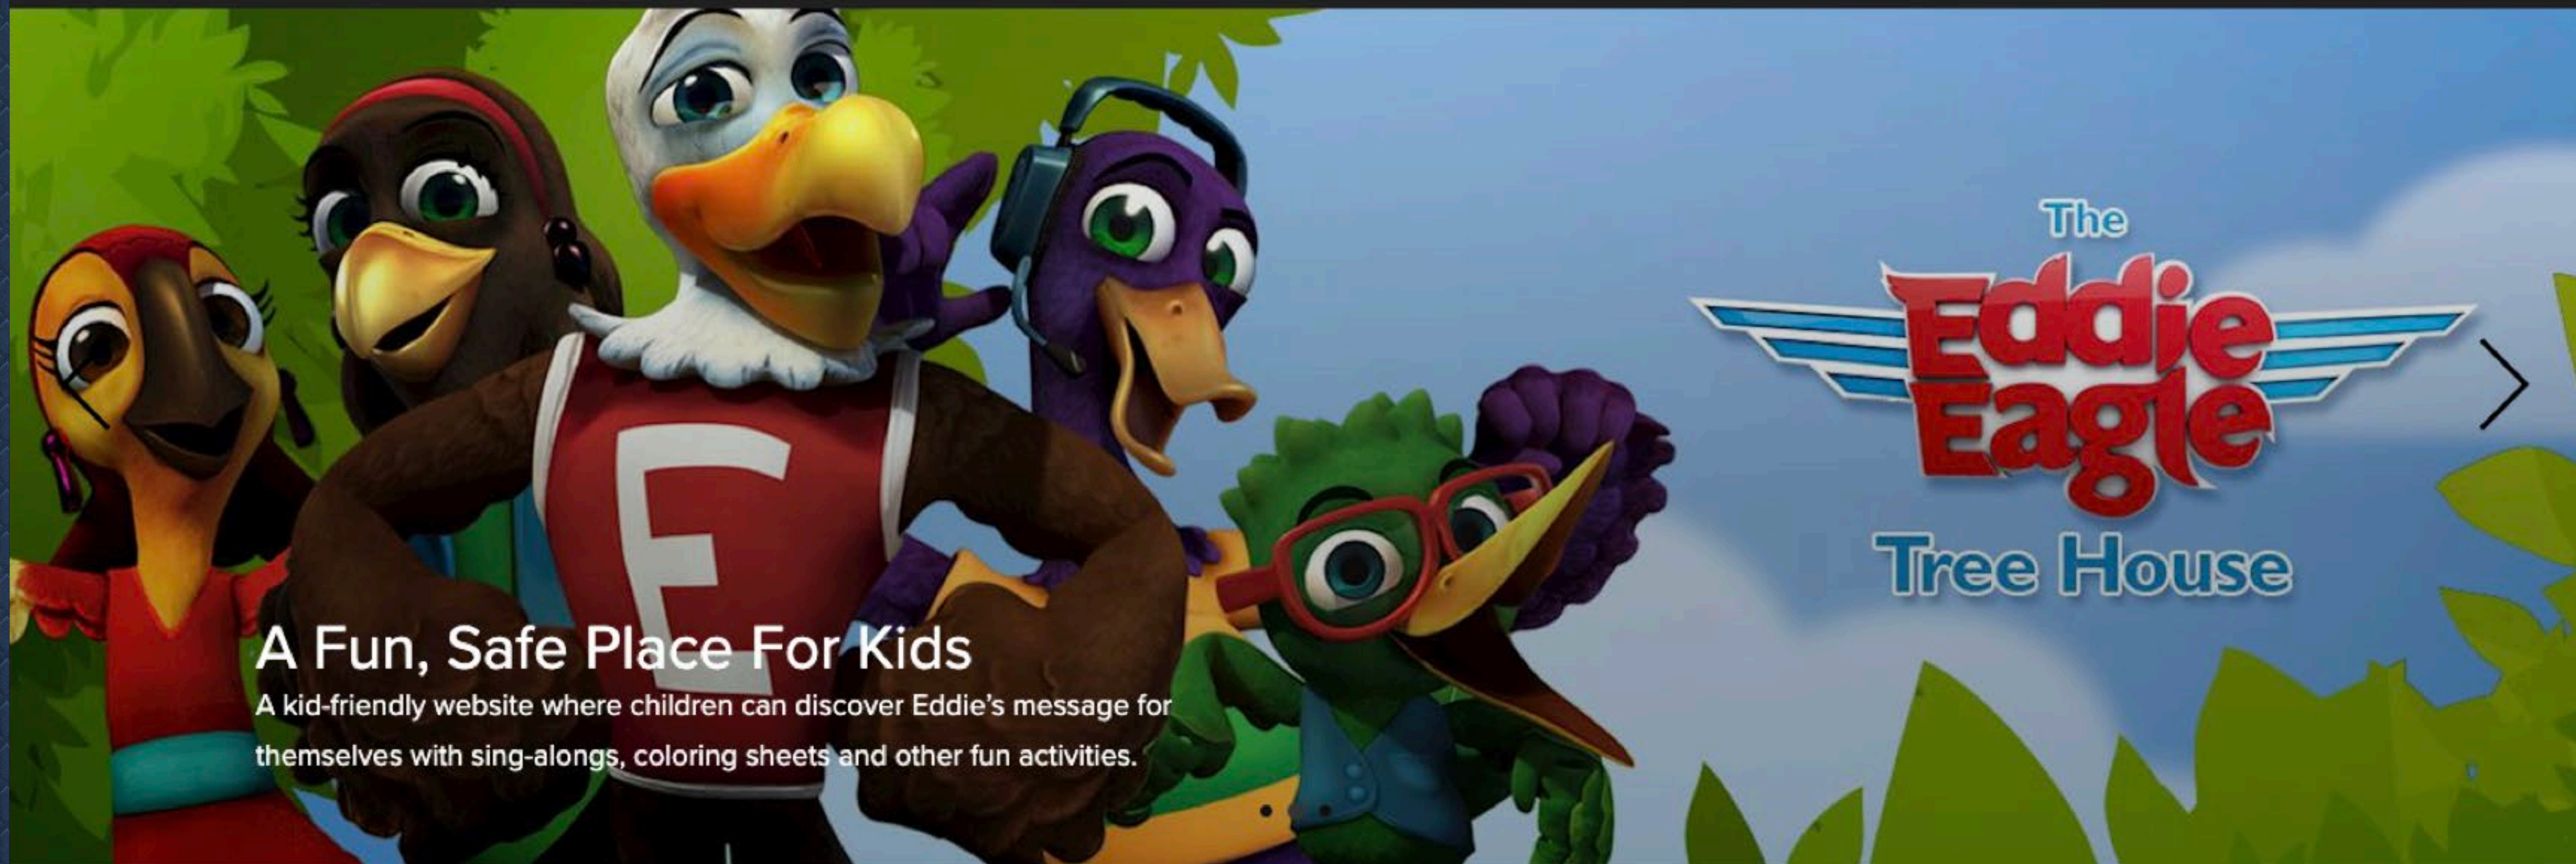

Temporarily removing lethal means from someone in suicidal crisis greatly reduces the likelihood of that person dying by suicide, because it gives at-risk individuals something they crucially need: time.
