

Why Join The Roofing Industry?

You can make good money with roofing.

It varies by state, but the U.S. Department of Labor cites that the median annual wage for roofers was $50,000 to $80,000.

You do not need a special education.

Most employers will train you and provide benefits!

Job security. Once you have started learning your trade you will always have a job. The roofing industry is always looking for good people. You will probably never lose your job to robots or to it being sent overseas.

Roofing is a great career for the right person. This job is right for craftsmen, mathematicians, engineers, techies, thrill seekers, artists, rock climbers, leak detectives and people that just love rewarding work. Roofers in the field wear many hats and you can specialize in any area. It's a career you can fall in love with.

Technology lovers are welcome. We use today's technologies on roofing projects every day. Roofing is more than hammers and nails! Today's roofing industry is mobile ready and in the Cloud. There is even a smart hard hat!

It's a great opportunity – Out on the roof or in the office!

Consider a Career in Roofing

The National Roofing Contractors Association (NRCA.net) lists these industry positions:

- ROOFING INSTALLATION: If you love working outdoors, there are roofing industry positions for you, including: Foremen, Technicians, Journeyman roof mechanics, Solar installers, Apprentices and Entry-level laborers.
- JOBS IN CONTRACTOR OPERATIONS: The roofing industry is growing exponentially. Along with this growth is an increasing demand for qualified workers such as: Construction managers, Project managers, Safety & Sales professionals, Consultants, Design professionals, Estimators, Office administration, Superintendents/field leadership and Warehouse/maintenance personnel.
- JOBS IN MANUFACTURING AND DISTRIBUTION: Advances in roof system technologies have driven demand for new and innovative products and manufacturing processes, and highly effective distribution and delivery systems. Positions include: Engineers, Sales professionals, Industrial lab technicians, Forklift operators, Truck driving professionals, Warehouse managers, Industrial maintenance staff, Shift managers and Production line operators.

Our industry offers highly competitive wages and benefits packages, comprehensive training programs and great work opportunities for men and women! Contact RCASoCal for more information.

Roofing Contractors Association of Southern California
RCASoCal.org • 714-630-7000