ASSOCIATE MEMBER BENEFITS

At Rural Water we aim to maximize the benefits available to our membership. We value your partnership and will continue to provide invaluable benefits to you and your organizations.

• Access to hundreds of utilities and entities that use your services.

• RWAU along with all the other state associations and the National Rural Water Association lobbies for federal project funding through USDA and EPA. This funding directly benefits engineers, attorneys, contractors and suppliers who assist in building these projects.

• RWAU also lobbies for state project funding and assists local entities in their project preparation.

• RWAU's conferences are the largest water and wastewater gatherings in the state. Your company has the opportunity to interact with the water and wastewater sector at these conferences. There is no better place to build relationships and friendships. Your membership brings you a discounted rate for your participation.

• RWAU often uses supporting members as presenters at conferences and trainings.

• RWAU's publications offer a great advertising opportunity and a means to showcase your services.

• RWAU's publications and media platforms provide an excellent means of staying current on industry news and trends.
