RE: SNT-101 First Ballot Results and Review Status

Thank you for your participation in the consensus body reviewing the proposed revisions to SNT-101.

As previously communicated, following the original distribution of the ballot, ISANTA conducted additional outreach and took steps to achieve balance across the consensus body. That effort resulted in an equal number of members in each of the three consensus body interest groups and extended the ballot submittal deadline to Oct 31, 2022.

Following a review of the votes cast, the ballot resulted in a vote for approval. The criterion for approval requires a majority of the consensus body members to have cast a vote, and at least two-thirds of the votes cast, not counting abstentions, to be a vote for approval. Both criteria were met.

A significant number of comments were received. The committee is obligated and committed to thoroughly reviewing, and doing its best to resolve, each comment submitted. To date, the committee has sorted the comments by subject and started the review process. In the coming weeks, the committee will complete its review and, where warranted, conduct additional outreach. Thereafter, the committee will notify each commenter of the committee's proposed resolution of each comment, and its reasoning. Additional discussion will be undertaken if needed. Any unresolved comment will be reported to the full consensus body and each member will have the opportunity to reaffirm or change their vote or provide additional comment.

The next meeting of the committee is scheduled for January 19th. Additional information will follow.
