

14:10:58 -:

CIPA does not apply to student owned end user devices.

14:12:43 -:

Wouldn't the ACL (access control list) deployed address the filtering?

14:17:03 -:

Empowering local authorities = policy localism

14:18:39 -:

Cruz letter to Chair Rosenworcel (July 2023): "Given the FCC's record of skyrocketing USF spending, there is no telling how much USF fees could increase to pay for this dramatic, unlawful expansion of E-Rate."

14:24:01 -:

Yes, my understanding is that CIPA applies to the hotspot per the Order, too Deb

14:24:43 -:

Reacted to "Yes, my understandin..." with 👍

14:25:44 -:

Cruz: "The law is clear: the Commission's E-Rate authority is explicitly confined to classrooms and libraries."

14:26:35 -:

My response to Sen. Cruz is that while the statute mentions "classrooms", it does not say "only" classrooms.

14:29:03 -:

-As of last week: Applicants: 719
Students Represented: 5,516,771
Sites Benefitting: 12,306

14:35:41 -:

Many small libraries did not apply Deb because of the regulations

14:37:00 -:

maintaining records, non-use of devices, activating and de-activating and more...

14:37:38 -:

I support John's suggested approach to check with other offices concerning this issue and to try to garner support to oppose the initiative to rescind the regulations. Notwithstanding any of my other comments to the contrary.

14:38:36 -:

Reacted to "I support John's sug..." with ❤️

14:39:52 -:

Thanks Deb

14:41:28 -:

Reacted to "I support John's sug..." with ❤️

14:48:14 -:

<https://www.cosn.org/cosn-news/shlb-cosn-setda-and-ala-oppose-the-eyes-on-the-board-act/>

14:49:44 -:

<https://www.aasa.org/resources/blog/guest-post-comparing->

requirements-for-schools-under-e-rate-kosma

14:50:01 -:

I would endorse Amina proposal

14:50:04 -:

<https://publicinterestprivacy.org/school-requirements-kosma-cipa/>

14:57:40 -:

I gotta go.

14:58:34 -:

Have to run - thanks for the discussion everyone!

14:59:11 -:

Broadband #1. Data Centers #2. OTT / Big Data #3.

14:59:15 -:

(my opinion)

15:00:08 -:

Thanks!