A legacy of safety stewardship since 1924.

JOIN THE CHLORINE INSTITUTE

WHO WE ARE

The Chlorine Institute (CI/Institute), founded in 1924, is a technical trade association of companies involved in the production, distribution and use of chlorine and other chlor-alkali products. Our association has become recognized as the credible safety and technical organization supporting the North American chlor-alkali industry.

All Institute activities are an effort to achieve zero injuries, zero releases and zero environmental harm throughout the industry.

Commitment to Safety, Security & Stewardship

Working in partnership with its members, their customers and other end-users, transportation providers, emergency responders and local, state and federal officials, CI provides hands-on training programs, publications, training videos, presentation materials and shared communications to help the industry continuously improve all aspects of safety, security and stewardship.
