Together SC
ALLIES FOR GOOD

A Collective Journey Toward a Better SC

SUMMIT OBJECTIVES

Our state's annual gathering of Allies for Good is heading in a new direction this year. Facing Race Together will offer an immersive learning experience to aid attendees and their organizations in better understanding and tackling issues of race, equity and inclusion (REI). Our goals are to help attendees:

- 1 Understand SC's history and the embedded systems of advantage and disadvantage, and how these systems continue to create inequities in our state;
- 2 Commit to change from the inside out, and examine their own organization's practices through a race, equity and inclusion lens;
- 3 Have increased confidence to hold courageous conversations;
- 4 Gain tools and resources that support REI efforts in their organizations; and,
- 5 Connect with groups, coalitions and experts engaged in this work.

SUMMIT PRINCIPLES

- 1 Our collective history matters— We can't move forward with intentionality and impact if we don't ground ourselves in our shared SC history. Whether you are a native or not, a shared context for how race impacts the health, education, housing and other outcomes of our state is critical.
- 2 Acknowledge the discomfort—We know that our attendees will be at various stages in their understanding of REI initiatives and conversations and will do all we can to prepare attendees for the conference and what to expect. But we won't be afraid to "trouble the waters." During the conference, we will not blame nor apologize but will respect, listen and move to collective understanding and action. If people are not uncomfortable, we aren't going deep enough.
- 3 Make the learning and action personal—We will provide opportunities that allow attendees to reflect and tell their own stories. We will create opportunities where it is safe to share, so that everyone who attends can be heard by someone.
- 4 "Inspirational", not just "best" practices—From the design of the conference to the selection of the speakers, we want the experience to build on the successes in our state and beyond. Attendees will be inspired by what they hear, see and experience before, during and after the Summit.
