FOR ADVANCED RATING SCHOLARSHIPS

CAE 2025 Citation Bravo Type Rating Scholarship ($18,000 value)

CAE will award a scholarship for one Pilot In Command (PIC) type rating from the below program offerings to WAI members. Upon successful completion of the pilot initial training course, the recipient will earn a PIC type rating in the appropriate aircraft program: Cessna Citation Sovereign (CE-680 type designation) – New Jersey, Cessna Citation Bravo or Ultra (CE-500 type designation) – Dallas, Beechcraft King Air 350i (BE-300 type designation) – Dallas.

The scholarship winner must, as a minimum, be a holder of a private pilot certificate (500 hours PIC) with multiengine (100 hours) and instrument (100 hours) ratings. For this scholarship award, instrument skills are key to success. Before the type course, the winner will receive a Jeppesen Review and Cockpit Resource Management (CRM) course (approximately one day in length) to prepare the winner for the type rating course.

With the scholarship you will become a CAE Women In Flight Ambassador. Your role as an ambassador is to inspire the next generation of female pilots. As a CAE Women In Flight Ambassador, you will help women discover a career in aviation. In your day-to-day activities, at events and networking opportunities, we want you to bring your experience to life and spread the word with your network on social media. This is an opportunity to give back, tell your story, share your journey, and inspire others.

Dare to Dream Scholarship ($4,000 value)

A $4,000 scholarship will be awarded to a WAI member who is working toward an instrument or multi-engine rating, commercial or CFI certificate. Funds will be paid directly to your flight school, and training must be completed within one year. The applicant must have a private pilot certificate, and will be chosen based on merit, career aspirations, and dedication, as well as contributions to her community. One letter of recommendation must be from a pilot who has flown with you. FAA Class 1-3 medicals will still be required and preferred; BasicMed will be considered. One or the other is required.

ISA+21 Airline Type Rating Scholarship ($10,000 value)

The International Society of Women Airline Pilots (ISA+21) offers scholarships to promote the advancement of women in airline flight decks worldwide. ISA+21 will award one type rating (B737 or A320) valued at $10,000 to a member of WAI. The successful candidate will train for eight days with Flight Training International (FTI) in Miami, Florida, or Denver, Colorado. Funds will be paid directly to FTI, and training must be completed within 18 months. Finalists will be interviewed at the WAI2025 Conference, and the winner will be notified after conference.

AEROSPACE/AVIATION ENGINEERING SCHOLARSHIPS

American Airlines Engineering Scholarship (TWO OFFERED – each at $5,000 value)

American Airlines will award two $5,000 scholarships to a student pursuing a degree in engineering with a passion to work in the airline/aviation industry. Candidates will be evaluated on academic standing, personal accomplishments, teamwork, leadership skills and community service involvement and future career aspirations. Requirements: meet all WAI scholarship requirements and guidelines, 3.0 GPA or higher, enrolled in an accredited U.S. engineering program through a college or university, U.S. citizen or permanent resident. American Airlines' Technical Operations divisions are vital to the company's commitment to provide safe, dependable and friendly air transportation to their customers. As such, they seek to attract top maintenance talent who share their passion and interest in the aviation industry.

Delta Air Lines Engineering Scholarship ($5,000 value)

Delta Air Lines will award a $5,000 scholarship to a student currently enrolled in a baccalaureate degree in aerospace/aeronautical, electrical, or mechanical engineering. The scholarship includes a trip to the WAI2025 conference in Denver (includes roundtrip airfare, hotel accommodations, and conference fee). Applicants must be full-time students at the junior or senior level with a cumulative 3.0 GPA of (on a 4.0 scale) or better.

The AI Worden "Endeavour" Scholarship ($7,000 value)

The Endeavour Scholarship is a registered 501(c)(3) nonprofit that brings STEM-minded students and teachers on an all-expenses-paid, 10-day journey to Washington, DC, and Space Camp at the U.S. Space & Rocket Center in Huntsville, Alabama, in July 2025. Eight teams of four students and one teacher will be selected to represent their home countries in this immersive experience of international collaboration, education, and leadership. This year's cohort will be selected from Australia, Bahrain, France, Indonesia, the United States, and the United Arab Emirates.

Students will participate in the Advanced Academy and experience astronaut-like training, and teachers will join the Space Camp for Educators program learning engaging and active STEM lessons for the classroom.

To apply, please submit a 3-minute video explaining what this opportunity and a future in STEM mean to you and your larger community. Teachers should articulate how they envision bringing the knowledge gained to the classroom and beyond. Videos should be submitted to info@endeavourscholarship.org with the subject line "2025 Application". Selected finalists will be invited to interview with our scholarship team for a spot in Endeavour Class of 2025.

Learn more about the program at www.endeavourscholarship.org.

Southwest Airlines is pleased to present two maintenance scholarships in the amount of $2,000 each. Each scholarship will also include WAI conference admission, hotel accommodations, and airfare (pertains only to a Southwest Airlines destination). In addition, scholarship winners will receive a small toolbox with the Southwest Airlines emblem.

FLIGHT SCHOLARSHIPS

AeroStar ATP CTP Certification Training Scholarship ($4,200 value)

The ATP CTP course is a prerequisite for the FAA's highest certificate. This training program will impart conceptual knowledge through academics and consolidate that knowledge through training in a Flight Simulation Training Device (FSTD). The course bridges the knowledge gap between a pilot who holds a private pilot certificate and a pilot operating in an air carrier environment. This program meets the requirements of FAR §61.156. Successful completion of our FAA-approved course makes you eligible to take the ATP MultiEngine (ATM) knowledge test, which you may take at any testing center. The ATP Certificate Training Program is 7-9 days long, (32 hours) 4 days ground taught by an experienced airline pilot; (10 hours) 3 days advanced flight simulation training in a Level D Full Flight Sim; (4 hours) 1 day of Level D Flight Training Device as crew; (6 hours) 2 days of Level D Full Flight Sim (FFS) as crew. This scholarship does not include lodging and transportation. Training must be scheduled to commence no later than one year from award. Cannot be converted to cash value or transferred to any other course or person.

FOR GENERAL CAREER ADVANCEMENT

Bonita Jean Olsen Memorial Scholarship

($3,000 value)

In addition to all WAI requirements, the applicant shall be pursuing higher education toward a STEM career with plans to enter a career in aviation or aerospace. The applicant must be enrolled (or committed to attending) an accredited institution (includes two- and four-year colleges, technical institutes, and certificate programs), and have experience volunteering in STEM or aviation-related events and/or WAI activities within the past year. In your WAI application essay, include detailed explanations of the applicant's career plans, goals, and volunteer experiences. Preference will be given to local candidates within the Seattle/Washington state area, but all applicants will be considered based upon character, need, community involvement, and accomplishments.

Business Aviation Collective Scheduler Course

($695 value)

BAC is offering one Business Aviation Scheduler Course to a WAI member to help them pursue active employment as a Part 91 scheduler. The course is to be used within one year of receiving the award. The recipient will also receive access to the BAC Schedulers Resource Page.

Elisha Hall Memorial Scholarship

($2,500 value)

WAI member Elisha Hall represented herself as a dedicated and passionate aviation professional. She was a leader, an explorer, and lived life to its fullest. To celebrate her life and accomplishments, the WAI Wright Chapter is offering a $2,000 scholarship to a woman who embodies the qualities that Elisha so splendidly exemplified, and who is seeking to further her aviation career in one or more of the following areas: flight training (any phase); aircraft scheduling or dispatch; aviation management; aviation maintenance or avionics. Preference is given to local candidates within the Cincinnati, Ohio/Tri-State area, but all applicants will be considered based upon character, need, community involvement, and accomplishments. Limited financial assistance will be offered to the scholarship recipient to attend the WAI conference.

General Chuck Yeager's Legacy Foundation Scholarship

($1,000 value)

In honor of Brig. Gen. Charles "Chuck" Yeager, legendary World War II fighter ace, Vietnam combat pilot, USAF test pilot, and the first person to exceed Mach 1 and Mach 2, and more extraordinary accomplishments. WAI is honored to announce this scholarship in Yeager's name. Just like the American icon that bears its name, this $1,000 scholarship, provided by the Gen. Chuck Yeager's Legacy Foundation, will be offered to a deserving WAI member who shows tenacity and dedication by constructively overcoming obstacles that could have impeded their ability to advance in their aviation goals. See www.WAI/scholarships for additional essay questions required for this application.

Janet Clark Memorial Scholarship

($1,500 value)

The WAI Washington State Chapter offers a $1,500 scholarship in memory of Janet Clark. She worked for the FAA as an airworthiness aviation safety inspector, maintenance division and was a member of the Washington State Chapter. The applicant must be working toward a career in aviation, be enrolled in an accredited aviation-related program, have experience volunteering in WAI events and/or aviation-related events in the previous year, and detail explanations of his or her career plans, goals, and volunteer experiences.

Level Up Aviation General Scholarship

($1,000 value)

Level Up Aviation is a non-profit 501(c)(3) that allocates resources and opportunities needed to reach equity for economically disadvantaged and underrepresented groups in aviation or related fields. Level Up Aviation General Scholarship provides $1,000 for general career advancement in an aviation related career (maintenance, ATC, scheduling, engineering, etc). Applicants must be enrolled in a certification or degree program. This scholarship will be paid directly to the organization providing the training to the applicant.

Mary Ann Eiff Memorial Outreach Award

($1,500 value)

The Mary Ann Eiff Memorial Award seeks to recognize an individual, a WAI chapter, or another significant entity that has demonstrated a clear commitment to reaching young women through outreach activities to inform them of the many aviation careers available to them and encourage them to consider choosing aviation careers. Individuals who win this award will receive a lifetime membership in WAI (currently a $1,500 value); or if awarded to a WAI Chapter, a $1,500 contribution will be made to the chapter to sustain their outreach activities. Potential recipients may apply themselves or on behalf of their chapter.

Applicant must be a current WAI member or an active WAI chapter and include a 500-word essay on why they deserve to be considered for this award, and two letters of recommendation.

Recommended: Upload no more than two examples of publicity or marketing materials used to promote the effort to encourage more young women to enter the aviation field.

WASP Elaine D. Harmon Tailwheel Scholarship

($1,500 value)

In memory of WASP pilot Elaine D. Harmon, this scholarship will provide up to $1,500 to fund tailwheel endorsement training. The purpose of the scholarship is to encourage and assist pilots to become involved in the warbird and vintage aircraft community to keep these historic airplanes flying. Warbirds and vintage airplanes bring a piece of history to the aviation community and help educate the public. The tailwheel endorsement is generally a requirement to pursue a warbird pilot rating. Accordingly, this scholarship is intended to support a pilot who is interested in further training to fly warbirds or vintage planes. Applicants must be current WAI members and are encouraged to research if they meet the minimum certification requirements to pursue this training at their provider of choice. The funds will be paid directly to the training provider and must be used within one year of receiving the award.

FOR CAREER PILOTS

Alaska Airlines / Horizon Air Pilot Scholarship ($5,000 value)

Alaska Airlines will award one $5,000 scholarship to a female pilot pursuing a professional airline pilot career with the goal of working for Alaska Air Group. Applicants must be full-time college students at the junior or senior level with a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 (on a 4.0 scale) or must be interested in our Pilot Development Program.
