

Interested in Drones? Attend this Free Seminar

Seminar part of Women in Aviation International Annual Conference

March 13, 2018 – “Tap into the Drone Market” is a free seminar hosted by Women in Aviation International (WAI). Open to the public, this seminar is scheduled for Friday, March 23, 2018, from 7:00 to 8:30 p.m. at the Reno-Sparks Convention Center, Convention Room C4 and is one session of WAI’s multi-day annual conference, held this year in Reno.

This session, led by industry experts, is designed to educate people on safe and responsible operations of drones, and includes information on license requirements, best business practices, and recruiting staff.

“The drone market is a rapidly expanding segment of the aviation industry,” says WAI President Dr. Peggy Chabrian. “We are offering this session for our members attending from all over the world, but have opened attendance to Reno-area residents since the drone market is such a popular and timely topic.”

Sharon Rossmark, founder of Women and Drones, will speak to career opportunities in the drone community and Jillian Switzer of AirMap will discuss best practices and navigating sometimes complex FAA regulations. Other presenters include Ashley Schappert of MzeroA.com, David MacDonald, president of Flamingo Air, and Sonal Baid of Kittyhawk.

No ticket or reservation is required for this free seminar. More information about this free session can be found at: <https://www.wai.org/drone-track>.
