

Full-time Faculty Positions in Department of Economics (2025/8/1)

Description

The Department of Economics at National Chengchi University in Taiwan invites applications for tenure-track faculty positions with teaching and research duty appointments starting on August 1, 2025. The complete application materials should be received by November 30, 2024.

Preferred Fields: All fields

Job Duty

Responsibilities include developing recognized research projects, advising graduate students, and conducting related public service. The teaching responsibilities are four courses per year and may consist of courses in undergraduate, master, or doctoral programs.

Required Documents

Application materials should include :

1. A cover letter for the application
2. A curriculum vitae
3. A photocopy of the applicant's Ph.D. degree certificate. Or a formal letter from the supervisor to confirm that the applicant will receive the Ph.D. degree by the end of June 2025.
4. An official copy of the transcript
5. Publications: such as the degree dissertation, refereed papers, or working papers within the past five years
6. Two to four sample course syllabi you intend to teach.
7. Three recommendation letters

Employee Benefits

1. Retirement pension, national health insurance, and government employee insurance
2. Living allowance, including marriage, maternity, and children's education
3. Faculty housing
4. Research allowance

Only short-listed candidates will be invited for interview.

Please send your application files to: nccuecono@gmail.com