

Poverty in Latin America 2024 Conference:

Each year, we organize a virtual event featuring presenters discussing poverty, inequalities, and related topics. This year, we have 13 presenters from Stanford, NYU, CUNY, SUNY, Loyola Chicago, Texas El Paso, Swansea University, Kyoto University, Zeppelin University, the University of the Free State, Tec Monterrey, and Ceipa, sharing their research and methods. Topics will focus on monetary policy and inequalities. All researchers from Latin America are invited to attend, free of charge. Please contact us at pzanzzi@espol.edu.ec
