

Susan Edwards

Speaker ♦ Coach ♦ Consultant

Susan grew up in a rural southern town and is proud to say she is bilingual. She speaks English and Southern. After receiving a degree in Accounting from The University of Tennessee, she began her career with a Fortune 500 manufacturing company, then spent 25+ years in a variety of leadership roles with manufacturing companies and small businesses. She went on to found Enlighten Management Consulting, Inc. The leadership, communication and conflict resolution skills she developed along the way have resulted in her being as comfortable in the Board Room as on the shop floor. She works with successful businesses and individuals to take their business, or career, to the next level. She spent years developing her 5 Step "Leading With STYLE" Program in support of this.
