WiM's Executive Networking Group is an exclusive networking group designed for female leaders who are at the helm of their respective fields in the manufacturing industry. The Executive Networking Group originated from the understanding that growth and innovation occur when extraordinary minds converge.

The WiM Executive Networking Group is well worth my time and provides a forum for strong women to support one another.

Executive Director of Government Affairs
Magna International

I value the energy and advice from thought leaders that I take away from each gathering.

Vice President of Advanced Manufacturing and Continuous Improvement
Kohler Co.

Grateful to be surrounded by such empowering leaders who continually ignite my creativity and propel me forward.

Owner/President
Enterprise Tool & Die, LLC

WiM's Executive Networking Group aims to foster an intimate environment conducive to confidential conversations, high-caliber networking opportunities and meaningful friendships. Being part of this distinguished group includes the following benefits:

Three Annual In-person Gatherings — These sessions are meticulously planned to include professional facilitation, networking dinners, insightful roundtable discussions, expert-led presentations and behind-the-scenes tours at manufacturing facilities.

Exclusive Communication Platforms — Gain access to a private email list and a dedicated LinkedIn group to stay connected with your peers throughout the year, ensuring the flow of inspiration and support is continuous.

Peer-to-Peer Networking — The exclusive nature of this group allows for authentic connections with other C-suite professionals, providing a valuable exchange of knowledge and experiences.

Benchmarking and Best Practice Sharing — Leverage the collective expertise of the Executive Networking Group's members to uncover actionable insights that address the unique challenges of the manufacturing industry.
