

Women in Manufacturing Hall of Fame Criteria and Selection Process

Criteria:

The Women in Manufacturing Hall of Fame honors women who have made outstanding contributions during the course of their established careers in manufacturing. Recipients include women who are dedicated to supporting, promoting, and inspiring women in the manufacturing industry, based on one or more of the following criteria:

1. Directly made an exceptional contribution to the advancement of women in manufacturing.
2. Facilitated and created programs that motivate young women to choose careers in manufacturing.
3. Enabled and encouraged other manufacturing women to advance in their careers.
4. Created or led innovations that promote manufacturing improvements and increased competitiveness.

How Inductees Are Selected:

Women in Manufacturing (WiM) and Women in Manufacturing Education Foundation (WiMEF) Board Members make up the panel of Hall of Fame judges. The WiM and WiMEF Boards of Directors come from many different facets of manufacturing, including chemical, automotive, construction, metal, industrial equipment, high tech, consumer packaged goods, and more.

After submissions are entered, the judging panel is provided with detailed information on each nominee. They then electronically review each nominee and answer a set list of questions that cover the awards criteria, rating each area on a scale of 1 through 5. All submissions are judged by the panel and their votes are submitted to WiM staff for final review and calculations in order to determine the award winners.

How Inductees Are Notified:

After the voting has taken place and inductees are determined, WiM's president will reach out to each inductee via e-mail communication to inform them of the honor.

For those who are selected, within one week's time are required to:

- Confirm the accuracy of the submitted materials/information included in the entry
- Notify us of attendance for the Hall of Fame Inductions Ceremony taking place virtually on October 1, 2020.
- Notify us if there will be a representative to claim the award at the Hall of Fame Inductions Ceremony

*Questions about the Women in Manufacturing Hall of Fame Criteria and Selection Process?
Contact Lisa Tarcy at ltarcy@womeninmfg.org.*